HOW DID THE FUND PERFORM LAST YEAR AND WHAT AFFECTED ITS PERFORMANCE?

The Reinhart Genesis PMV Fund – Advisor Class generated a return of +1.55% for the twelve-month period ended May 31, 2025, lagging the Russell 3000 Index return of +13.12% over the same period. Given our focus on smaller-capitalization companies and Private Market Value valuation discipline, we would highlight two stylistic headwinds during the period: 1) large-capitalization companies outperformed small-capitalization companies by over 1250 bps during the period (Russell 1000 Index +13.73% vs. Russell 2000 Index +1.18%) and 2) Growth outperformed Value by over 850 bps (Russell 3000 Growth Index +17.04% vs. Russell 3000 Value Index +8.40%). Within the portfolio, negative selection effect more than offset positive allocation effect. At the sector level, Industrials and Information Technology were the largest relative detractors while Consumer Staples (one stock) and Energy (no holdings) were modest contributors during the period. Finally, given the increased market volatility with macro and tariff uncertainty, portfolio activity picked up with six new purchases and nine complete sales during the trailing fiscal year.
